

Sent Items Update: New useful feature in CodeTwo Exchange Rules 2007/2010

CodeTwo announces a new, desired feature in CodeTwo Exchange Rules 2007/2010 – Sent Items Update. With the latest versions of this software, viewing server-side signatures and disclaimers in Sent Items is finally possible. Users can now easily reassure that footers in sent emails have been added and properly formatted.

Jelenia Góra, Poland, Apr 08, 2010 --

Both CodeTwo Exchange Rules 2007 and CodeTwo Exchange Rules 2010 are advanced tools for administrating signatures, footers and disclaimers added to corporate mail sent via Microsoft Exchange Server. The newest Sent Items Update feature is available in CodeTwo Exchange Rules 2010 (versioned 1.1) and CodeTwo Exchange Rules 2007 (versioned 2.2).

- We are proud to introduce this feature to our customers. – says Michal Bednarz, CodeTwo founder and Managing Director. – Sent Items Update has been an eminently desirable capability by our customers so we decided to live up to their requirements and implement it to CodeTwo Exchange Rules 2007 and Exchange Rules 2010.

Thanks to the newest capability of CodeTwo applications, every message that receives a footer from CodeTwo Exchange Rules will be displayed in Sent Items together with a signature stamped on the server side. Not only does it make the mail compliant with legal regulations, but also gives much more control over the look of messages. Users don't have to imagine the final layout of their correspondence anymore. – Our customers don't have to worry if signatures or disclaimers have been added properly to emails since they can immediately view footers in Sent Items irrespective of an email client they use. – says Michal Bednarz.

CodeTwo Exchange Rules 2007 and CodeTwo Exchange Rules 2010 are one of CodeTwo flagship products. They provide numerous tools for managing unified and professional looking signatures attached to company emails send via Microsoft Exchange 2007 and Microsoft Exchange 2010. The software allows also to create attractive and professional company footers and disclaimers that help to enhance the visual corporate identity of the company. Footers can contain photos, company logos and banners that are easily added by the user through an easy-to-use built-in HTML editor. Due to their diverse capabilities, CodeTwo Exchange Rules 2007/2010 can also be used as powerful tools to aid companies marketing campaigns.

The updates for new versions supporting Sent Items Update are free of charge for all CodeTwo Exchange Rules 2010 users and all customers using CodeTwo Exchange Rules 2007 2.x.
